

Center for Cognitive Science

University at Buffalo, State University of New York

Spring 2001 Colloquia

Graduate Student Association, Poster Session

Wednesday, February 28, 2001

2:00 pm - 3:30 pm

280 Park Hall, North Campus

- Sayaka Abe, Department of Linguistics
Perception of Rhythm in a Musical Phrase
- Eva M. Bero, Department of Communicative Disorders and Sciences
Spectral Feature Processing: auditory transfer functions for sinusoidal ripple
- Bert Capella, Visiting Student, Department of Linguistics
Participant Roles and the Role of Particles
- Hythem Ishmail, Department of Computer Science & Engineering
The Fleeting Now: Reasoning about the Passage of Time
- Francis Johnson, Department of Computer Science & Engineering
Revising Beliefs in an Implemented KRR System
- Kazu Kawachi, Department of Linguistics
Practice effects in speech production planning models
- Nathan Large, Department of Psychology
The role of short-term memory in language perception
- Frank Lehouillier, Department of Linguistics
Asymmetric logic
- Midori Minami, Department of Anthropology
Self-recognition and address forms among family members
- Luis Paris, Department of Linguistics
Grammatical encoding of the Event and Temporal structure distinction
- Chris Phipps, Department of Linguistics
The semantics of prepositions with English barrier verbs
- John Santore, Department of Computer Science & Engineering
Identifying perceptually indistinguishable objects
- Aniket Saoji, Department of Communicative Disorders and Sciences
Auditory masking patterns for simple spectral stimuli
- Bharat Sukhija, Department of Computer Science & Engineering
Do Birds Fly?
- Liza Zimack, Department of Psychology
Talker voice and similarity affect of lexical neighborhoods